

WHAT'S THE VERMONT COMMISSION ON WOMEN?

The Vermont Commission on Women advocates for women; educates the public about women's issues and history, and initiates and coordinates coalitions with women's organizations.

We represent the possibilities of women, not the reality of the time, but the vision of the future. We advocate for what SHOULD be, not settle for what CAN be.

VCW promotes awareness of Vermont women's strengths, contributions and unique challenges to the Vermont community.

THE VERMONT COMMISSION ON WOMEN: IT'S ABOUT WOMEN FOR A CHANGE

VCW's Goal: Women achieve legal, economic, social and political equality. Energetic, nimble and constantly evolving, we create positive change for individuals, agencies, government, and society.

Let the Commission fight for the impossible dream, a future of equal opportunity and choice for women - free from abuse, harassment and fear.

VCW cogitates, educates and advocates those issues near and dear to Vermont women, their families, and their communities

VCW: Vermont Cares for Women! To me, VCW is caring, service oriented well-informed women helping to make Vermont a better place to live and work for girls of future generations.

The Vermont Commission on Women is an advocacy organization for women and their families to achieve economic and political equality.

VCW unites Vermont women around ideas and issues that advance their full participation in civic and communal life.

The Vermont Commission works to improve the status of women in Vermont by researching and documenting areas needing improvement, offering possible solutions and calling same to the attention of state legislators.

VCW promoting opportunities for Vermont women from cradle to grave, womb to tomb, forever and ever, alleluia!

Vermont Commission on Women - promoting equality and opportunities for women and girls since 1964

VCW is a voice for Vermont Women in finding answers, seeking solutions (through legislation), and building knowledge and awareness.

The Commission should represent the future of women as it should be, pushing the envelope further than thought possible, absolute equality of opportunity.

The Vermont Commission on Women is a group that is dedicated to identifying and serving the various needs of Vermont women, with an emphasis on economic, social and political equality.

Encourage girls and women in Vermont to participate fully in the public life of the state.

Assure that women's voices are heard in policy/program discussions in Vermont.

Bring particular concerns of Vermont women to the attention of policymakers in Vermont

VERMONT COMMISSION ON WOMEN: EDUCATION, ACTION, INFORMATION

The Vermont Commission on Women: the strong voice and bold vision that leads Vermont women to lives of justice dignity, freedom, equality, and economic security.

An integrated meeting and discussion group composed of various women representatives from a range of organizations that deliberate with the aim or purpose to improve the lives of women.

Vermont Commission on Women is the one central statewide organization that has the ability and responsibility to identify issues of concern and interest to women and girls and advocates for positive change.

Vermont Commission on Women is a state agency that works to better the lives of Vermont women, and therefore, the lives of all through advocacy, education and information.

Vermont Commission on Women promotes equality and opportunities for women throughout their lives.

Vermont Commission on Women functions to empower women, to encourage them to be less dependent, and to draw on their vast inner resources.

Vermont Commission on Women is a watchdog for women's issues. It is the Commission's responsibility and duty to support all initiatives that promote the advancement and equality of Vermont women.

The Vermont Commission on Women shapes the vision, and facilitates the ability of women to achieve equality in the areas of education, economic security, health and safety.